Item 1.02. Termination of a Material Definitive Agreement.

On December 23, 2008, Emergent Product Development UK Limited, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Emergent BioSolutions Inc. (“Emergent”), entered into an agreement (the “Termination Agreement”) with Sanofi Pasteur, S.A. to terminate the license and co-development agreement that the two parties had entered into in May 2006 (the “License Agreement”), effective December 31, 2008.

Pursuant to the License Agreement, Emergent had granted Sanofi Pasteur an exclusive, worldwide license under Emergent’s proprietary technology to develop and commercialize a Neisseria meningitis B vaccine candidate in exchange for payment to Emergent of upfront and development fees, milestone payments and royalties. The License Agreement is described in more detail in Emergent’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2007. Based on preclinical studies performed under the License Agreement, both parties determined that the joint efforts had not identified a promising product candidate.

The termination provisions of the Termination Agreement supersede those contained in the License Agreement. The Termination Agreement provides that all rights and licenses granted by each party to the other shall immediately terminate, except for a limited research license granted to Sanofi with respect to one product candidate. Both parties released the other party from all obligations under the License Agreement. The Termination Agreement does not affect Emergent’s right to receive payment for work performed prior to the effectiveness of the termination. No payments are due resulting from the termination.
